

A. N. P. PROPHECIES HARDING VICTORY.

lander than vote for Cox." From the most careful information obtainable, the associated Negro Press believes that so far as the Negro and Coolidge ticket is concerned, the race is more unanimous than it has been in more than a score of years, since McKinley's first election, 1896. This is due to the outspoken words of the two candidates in behalf of law and order, which are the uppermost issues in the mind of the American Negroes.

The fractional differences of Maryland, West Virginia, Missouri and Wisconsin, where the Negro votes have some real degree of importance to the final results, will be carried over to election in the matter of Senatorial, Congressional and state officials. The men of these states claim that they are fighting the "Jolly Whites" and in the communities where they best know how to deal with it.

This is true in Virginia, for example, where Attorney J. R. Pollard is a candidate for United States Senator, opposing Carter Glass, now up for re-election. It is true in Arkansas, where Prof. Mount is a candidate for Governor; and Oklahoma, where the Tulsa Star, race newspaper, proclaims an "increasing number of Democrats" and Oklahoma, where the "Black and Tan" ticket made up of whites and Negroes, is opposing the "Jolly Whites" and is receiving the endorsement of the pulpit and press of the state.

Activity of Leaders. The last week of the campaign finds both the Chicago and New York headquarters practically deserted. The leaders are putting in last minute punches against the "Demon of Democracy" which they unanimously accept as far worse than the "Demon of Democracy." Col. Henry Lincoln Johnson has been in Ohio, Indiana and Missouri.

For the Associated Negro Press, Col. Johnson declared: "Just before me, ready to grasp, are the fruits of many years self-sacrificing toil. Forgetful of business, and almost forgetful of family, I have sought to create sentiment against lynching in this country. When we began this campaign, I declared that the uppermost issue with us is lynching. If we can stop this, then other wrongs will cease, and justice will be meted out. Today, the country is red hot with sentiment against lynching."

"The Republican party, in its platform, and the candidates have spoken out vigorously on the subject. Harding and Coolidge will be elected with the greatest landslide in the history of our country. Make no mistake, and vote for our homes and families."

Robert R. Church, who is never weary in working out political strategies, has been spreading the final days in Chicago and New York, prior to returning to Tennessee where the Republicans expect to make big headway in the control of power. The Republicans also are hoping to make real inroads in Virginia and Oklahoma. Charles C. Cottrell has been speaking in Indiana during the final week. Mrs. Letha C. Fleming and Mrs. Victoria Clay Haley have been in the field of Maryland, Ohio, and Indiana, closing up with Missouri.

For the Associated Negro Press Mrs. Fleming said:

"This is the first opportunity our women have had to vote for President. We regard the privilege as a miracle, and we will exercise our trust with sacred earnestness. The women know what fate is awaiting their action. Harding and Coolidge will get our overwhelming vote."

William H. Lewis, of Boston, a member of the Republican Advisory Committee, with his associates in the East, have been putting in some solid work during the last week.

In Illinois there is little, if any factionalism on the National ticket. The colored people of Chicago are practically unanimous for Harding and Coolidge. There is an effort to get a division on the state and county tickets, but even the extremists have but slight hope of the success.

In New York state, and particularly in New York City, the same condition prevails as in Illinois, practically unanimous for the national ticket, with local efforts to line up for the state tickets of the Democrats.

Perry W. Howard, secretary of the Chicago Bureau, says:

"I am very well satisfied with the results and prospects. It will be Harding and Coolidge. The sentiment is overwhelming."

Detailed Report of Results. The Associated Negro Press will give a detailed report of results of the election, as it affects the race, and will give opinions of leading citizens. The big days of action will be on following the election.

COLOR SCHEME FRUSTRATES CUPID.

(N. A. N. P.)—Adam Stayman (White) of this city met the East bound express to greet his bride to be, with whom he had corresponded through a matrimonial agency, but the color scheme was all wrong, and the wedding had to be cancelled. Stayman traces his ancestry to the first American pioneers but the girl whom he met on the train was of African descent. Once Stayman was convinced of the error and that he had really met a person with whom he had corresponded, he departed in haste.

Stayman answered an advertisement in a matrimonial magazine which said, "Wanted, a husband. A correspondence followed. Each supplied the other with what seemed to be the necessary details before they became engaged. Through the color problem was overlooked."

BIRTH RECORD HELD BY ATLANTA NEGRO MOTHER.

(By A. N. P.)—Atlanta's record for the number of children born to one mother is believed to have been shattered. Anna Pitts Clifton, 54 years old, of 23 Richmond Street, has just given birth to her twentieth child, according to reports in the City Health Office.

Only eight of the children are alive. The father, Charles Clifton, a mechanic, is 57 years old.
